One of the biggest trends in bathrooms over recent years is the mixing of styles, applications and finishes to create a truly unique bathroom. To help facilitate this need for customisation, leading international bathroom brand Dornbracht recently introduced a system, which allows the client to choose from various spout and handle styles and combine them to create their own unique taps. Additionally, clients have the ability to choose individual colours and finishes from 10 different options – including chrome, brass, rose gold, black, champagne and white.

With 18 ranges to mix and match, and a unified design across all Dornbracht products, there are no limits to the combinations of function and design that can be achieved.
